This program is designed to help grandparents better cope with the challenge of raising grandchildren.

Program services include:

- In depth assessment to identify underlying issues
- Development of individualized treatment plan
- Individual and family sessions
- Skills to understand and cope with intergenerational family dynamics
- Tools to successfully transition back into parenting roles
- Periodic reassessment and revision to the original treatment plan
- A reconnect option when problems surface
- Referral recommendations to follow-up services such as specialized testing, medical assessment, financial, and legal resources when indicated

Service fees are set with consideration to type and frequency of treatment and may be available on a sliding fee scale to qualified individuals.

We accept most insurances, checks, credit cards, electronic funds transfer, qualified Employee Assistance Programs and select third party pay sources.
